

Great Plains Communications Announces Christopher Sikora as Chief Revenue Officer

Sikora will oversee GPC's revenue generation across all divisions, driving growth through strategic solutions and innovation

Blair, Nebraska, August 3, 2023 -- Great Plains Communications (GPC), the Midwestern digital infrastructure provider with a growing, privately owned 18,000+ mile fiber network reaching 13 states, today announced the appointment of Christopher Sikora as Chief Revenue Officer. In this executive role, Sikora will drive new revenue paths across GPC's enterprise, residential, multi-dwelling unit (MDU), wholesale and channel business sectors, while continuing to elevate the customer experience.

Sikora comes to Great Plains Communications with more than 25 years in leadership roles in the telecommunications and technology sectors, launching and growing new platforms and building sustainable business models. Sikora has held key leadership roles at CenturyLink and Level 3 Communications (today rebranded Lumen Technologies); Con Edison Communications; TW Telecom; and MFS Communications.

"We are thrilled to welcome Chris as Chief Revenue Officer at Great Plains Communications. He is truly a visionary with a deep understanding of the industry and the technology solutions that drive results for our customers," said Todd Foje, CEO of Great Plains Communications. "Chris has demonstrated success with start-up, early stage and Fortune 500 companies, identifying challenges and growth opportunities. He's a great addition to our team."

Christopher Sikora stated, "I believe that as we listen closely to the needs and challenges of our customers and communities, we can bring innovation and connections that drive significant, transformational change. The GPC network and our talented employees are a winning combination. I look forward to being a part of this team as we work together to advance broadband further."

Sikora has an MBA from New York University's Stern School of Business and a Bachelor of Science from King's College, in Wilkes-Barre, PA. He will be based in Denver, Colorado, and Omaha, Nebraska.
